

How to Register for “Learn to Compete” Tournaments

The “Learn to Compete” Tournament List is for Junior Boy and Girl golfers from the age of 13-18 who want to start playing in more golf tournaments (all junior golfers through the age of 18 can play in any of these tournaments though). The list includes:

Column A – Dates of the tournament in calendar order

Column B – The name of the tournament with a link to that tournament and information.

Column C – The golf course where the tournament is being played with a link to the course website.

Column D – Province that the tournament is being played.

Column E – A link to the website of the organization that runs this tournament.

Column F - Where to register, if it is coloured, click on it to register online.

Column G, H + I – Lets you know if you need to apply in writing with a cover letter and playing resume.

Column J – Link to the official Application form, if applicable.

Column K – Deadline date to register by

Column L – Cost of the tournament

Column M – Let’s you know if there is a practice round included in the entry fee

Column N – Tournament Chairperson of organization tournament person

Column O – That person’s email.

Column P – Golf Canada Order of Merit (OOM) Points for 1st place.

Column Q - Golf NB Player of the Year (POY) points available for 1st place.

Columns R, S + T – Link to Qualifying Tournaments by playing well at this tournament.

To register for Golf NB, MJT, CJGA tournaments follow the follow theses steps:

- Make a tournament calendar for the year (with your Coach/Golf Pro and your parents taking into account, dates, costs, POY and OOM Points, Qualifiers, etc).
- Become a Golf Canada Gold Member through your Golf Course or online if you are not a member of a course. This gives you a Golf Canada Score Centre Handicap (You must play at least five 18-hole or ten 9-hole rounds of golf to have a validated handicap. Once you have 20 scores, the best 10 are taken and you have a true handicap.
- The Tournament List has hyperlinks to hopefully make registering for tournaments easier. That being said, links can break for many reasons and you may have to go to the organization’s website and find the tournament schedule and find the tournament you want to play in that way.
- The Tournament Link sends you to the tournament page which should answer most questions about the event. The Golf Course Link take you to the course website if you want to find out about golf course and its amenities. The Website column is a link to the organization running the tournament and the link to go to if the Tournament Link is not working.

- The Register Link should take you to the tournament registration. If the word registration is black lettering, then the tournament isn't open for registration yet.
- The next 3 columns let you know if you must apply for an exemption into the tournament and need to email or mail a cover letter and playing resume. Examples of a cover letter and playing resume can be found on the Golf NB Website.
- The Application Column only has a link if there is a special application form or certain application information with that tournament. Once you have applied for an event the tournament, organizers from that tournament will get back to you to let you know if you have been accepted.
- MJT and CJGA tournaments both charge a membership fee of $149.00 to play in their tournaments and you receive swag, and tee gifts for this membership. If you do not want to pay the membership fee there is a $25.00 extra charge put on the entry fee for each tournament in which you play.
- If you play well in MJT and CJGA golf tournaments you may qualify to play in another one of their tournaments. They will contact you directly if you have qualified for another tournament.
- When you click on the register link on the list it will take you to the sign in page where you enter your Golf Canada number and your password or your CJGA or MJT membership # and password. From there follow the steps until you are registered.
- Once you have registered and paid for an event, check the website or email the organization to see if there is a practice round for the tournament and if there is any cost involved with that tournament. Every organization treats practice rounds a little differently.
- Check for your tee time a day or two before your tournament on the organization's website.
- Arrive at the golf course at least 1 hour before you tee off and sign in at the registration table when you arrive. Once you have signed in you can warm up and make sure you have everything you need for the round.
- Make sure you head to the tee at least 10 minutes before your tee time.
- Enjoy your round!
- If it is more than a one-day tournament make sure to check the organization's website for your tee time for the next day. It takes at least an hour after the last group has finished their round before tee times are posted for the next day.
